Memories

Published by the Senior Class of Liberty Center High School
Liberty Center, Indiana

Our MEMORIES is the finishing touch to our high school career. In years to come, this book will bring back the joyous events and trying moments both in the classroom and on the playing floor. Students have graduated from this present Liberty Center School building since 1913. Thus we, the 1963 graduating class, are celebrating a "golden" anniversary. Therefore,

This is our

year to remember —

ACTIVITIES -----	5
organizations, music, class play, clubs
SPORTS -----	17
varsity, B-team, cheerleaders, junior high
CLASSES -----	31
faculty, daily classes, students, officers

We get extra lessons from our CLUBS and ACTIVITIES pictured on PAGES 5 THROUGH 16. The teachers learn also from the students at a county tourney victory celebration.

We learn from SPORTS, too, as is shown on PAGES 17 THROUGH 30. Many of us learn as players and cheerleaders, while the rest of us learn as fans.

Accessing what we have learned, we take a look at our CLASSES on PAGES 31 THROUGH 59. A study hall scene shows the students, or most of them, hard at work.

busy staff editors,

Char Sellers, "Liberty Bell" editor, checking a past edition of the newspaper to see if there are any follow-up stories for the next month's paper, tells Mrs. Payne, advisor that they must remember to change an "ad" in the next edition.

Eight editions of the paper are compiled, edited, and distributed during the school year. One of the chief problems faced by the staff is writing stories that will "break" after the paper has gone to press.

Co-editors of the "Memories," Rex Hunnicutt and Cindy Raber, and Mrs. Brenda Payne, yearbook advisor, discuss the different layouts which could be used on the opening pages.

Approximately 140 yearbook subscriptions were sold this year. The yearbook became a greater task to put out because of the small number of seniors in the senior class. However, we did manage to meet the three deadlines with a few hours to spare.

F.H.A.'ers learning parliamentary order

Learning correct parliamentary procedure was one of the aims of the Liberty Center F.H.A. 'ers this year. Discussing a certain rule are Marcia McElaney, song leader; Charlotte Sellers, secretary; Jane Jarrett, editor; Marlene Mertz, historian; Cindy Raber, president; Mrs. Jerry Shaw, advisor; Erma Buse, parliamentarian; and Karol Kirtley, vice-president.

F.H.A. activities this year included rough and formal initiation, a bake sale, Christmas caroling, and various other activities.

Mr. Roush explains to F.F.A. officers Bill Thompson, president; John Collins, sentinel; Jeff Stinson, reporter; Dennis Schmidt, vice-president; Randy Raber, secretary; Ed Baublet, treasurer; and Dennis Redding, corresponding secretary; the route the F.F.A. boys will follow on their trip to Chicago.

The F.F.A. Club has a busy itinerary every year, and this year was no exception. Their first activity was the initiation of Greenhands. Then they sold sorghum which helped them get enough money for their trip to Chicago. Next they entered and placed in livestock, land, and crop judgments. They also sold seeds and helped the F.H.A. with the spring dance.

Sports

Lions mighty in strength

Bruce Stanton, 6' 1 1/2" junior forward, became an outstanding rebounder and gained fine shooting accuracy. Bruce was known as a man out to help the fighting Lion cause.

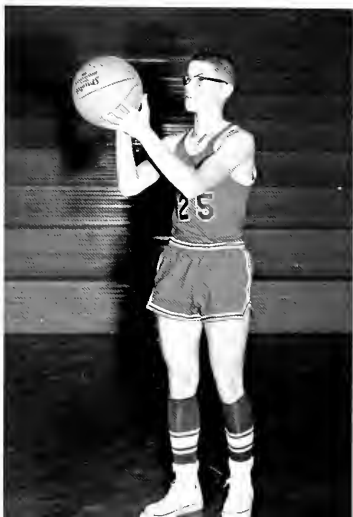

Jim Harris, 5' 11" junior forward, was perhaps the best defensive man on the Lion team. Jim also recovered many helpful rebounds.

Denny Archbold, 5' 9" junior guard, was the "floor general" on the team this year. Denny's unorthodox push-shot enables him to shoot from twenty-five feet away from the basket.

Bill Day, 5' 10 1/2" junior guard, played his first year on the varsity. Bill gained much experience in ball control and shooting ability.

but small in number

Dick Harris, 6' 4" junior center, played his second year of varsity ball and was one of the higher scorers of the season. Dick is well regarded as a good defensive and offensive player.

"Get those rebounds" may have been the cheer Dick Harris heard in the background.

Bill Thompson, 5' 10" senior guard and forward, has become known this year by his fast ball handling, fancy passing, and fine shooting ability.

Randy Raber, 5' 8" sophomore guard, gained much experience in fine ball control. Randy was said to be a good play-maker and a "pep pill" when the team was lagging.

Fine rebounding ability is being shown by forward Bruce Stanton during the tourney game against Jackson.

"We finally did it," sighs junior forward Jim Harris as he takes his turn at cutting down a portion of the net.

This has made the 3rd county tournament that Liberty Center has won, the first being in 1943 and the second in 1952.

coaches, manager,

Head coach Richard Butt and assistant coach Bill Bussel are reviewing a few of the plays that they will use in ball practice that night.

Ed Baublet, who is serving the ballteam as student manager, has many duties which must be done at practice sessions and during a ballgame. One of his jobs of lesser importance is sweeping the floor of the "Lions' Den."

"Is it a look of confusion or curiosity?" "No, it's neither one." Coach Butt is only trying to call an important time-out in one of the tourney games.

varsity yell-leaders supporting a common goal

"Win this game for L. H. S." seems to be the cheer expressed by Bobbie, Cindy, and Karol at the championship game of the county tourney.

This year the procedure for selecting varsity cheerleaders was changed. In order to try out for the varsity a girl was required to have had one year of high school cheerleading experience. This change resulted in three varsity cheerleaders instead of two as in the past. All other girls were eligible to try out for the second team with two girls being chosen.

Representing the varsity this year are Bobbie Klefeker, sophomore and high school cheerleader for two years; Cindy Raber, senior and four-year member of the cheerleading squad; and Karol Kirtley, sophomore and also a second year yell-leader.

Cheerleaders Nancy Klefer, eighth grade, and Cammy Lieurance, seventh grade, supported the junior high team with much enthusiasm.

The girls found time to practice their yells during free study halls and at night after school. They also planned many clever motions for their yells.

Junior high ballteams as well as other teams need a good cheering section. Cammy and Nancy are presently exercising the vocal cords of their cheering section in a "peppy" song named "We are the Lions."

Mrs. Metz exercises a watchful eye over her second year algebra class consisting of one girl and five boys.

Completing her eleventh year of teaching at Liberty Center, Mrs. Mable Metz has taught school for twenty-nine years. Mrs. Metz has had 5 1/2 years of college training from Manchester College, Marion College, Purdue University, The University of Michigan, and Yale Traffic School.

In his fifth year as principal at Liberty Center, Mr. John C. Talarico is teaching government and sociology. Social studies was his college major and English was his minor. Mr. Talarico holds a Bachelor of Science Degree from Manchester and a Master of Arts Degree from Ball State Teachers College.

In mid-February, Mr. Talarico administered the Kudor tests to the seniors. The tests are given to see what type jobs are best suited to the persons taking the test. There is no time limit on the Kudor tests, and the questions are answered by using pin-point marks on the answer sheet.

Miss Miller shows Jim Harris and Bruce Stanton the correct way to outline a speech.

Serving as the high school English teacher, annual and newspaper advisor, and eighth grade sponsor is Mrs. Brenda Payne, a 1961 graduate of Ball State Teachers College. Mrs. Payne holds a Bachelor of Science Degree, majoring in language arts and minoring in history.

Graduating from Manchester College in 1958 with a Bachelor of Science Degree was Mr. Richard Butt, who presently is Liberty Center's head coach, secretary-treasurer, and commerce teacher.

In beginning typing class Mr. Butt collects typing papers from students who have taken timed writings.

"Whew! That history test is finally over," exclaims the eighth grade students as they hand their test papers to Mr. Bussel.

Mr. William Bussel, who holds a Bachelor of Science Degree and a Master's in Elementary Education from Ball State Teachers College, has taught at Liberty Center the past four years. Mr. Bussel acts as junior high coach and assistant high school coach.

Shirley Raines is being told by Eldon Carnes, driving instructor, to always check the car's tires before driving the car.

grade teachers utilizing teaching aids

Mrs. Brane is pointing out to Mr. Yager President Harrison's place in the presidential chart made by Tim Huffman. It seems that a question was raised concerning who was elected after Van Buren.

Mr. Wayne Yager holds a Bachelor of Science Degree from Manchester College. He is teaching the sixth grade for the second year, and is also the fifth and sixth grade coach.

Six of 26 years of teaching have been spent at Liberty Center by Mrs. Violet Brane, fifth grade teacher. Mrs. Brane received her degree in elementary teaching from Goshen College in 1956.

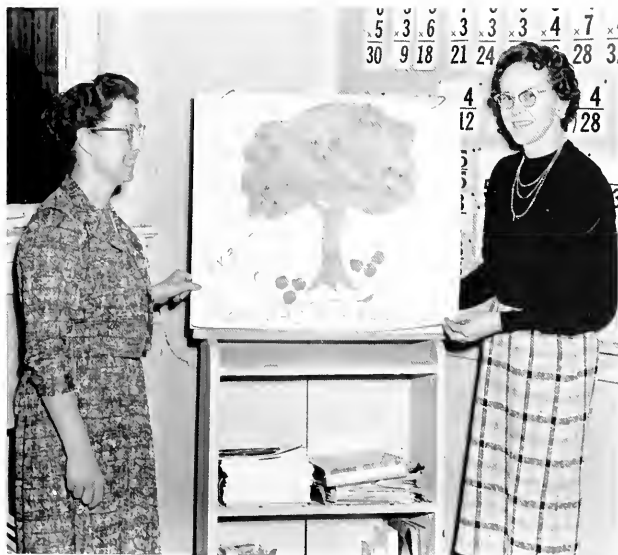

while students learn by various means

Mrs. Francis Clark, fourth grade teacher, holds a license in intermediate grammar from Ball State Teachers College. Mrs. Clark has spent a total of 12 years at Liberty Center, 11 of those years have been devoted to instruction of the fourth grade.

Third grade teacher, Mrs. Flora Kirtley, has been at Liberty Center for the past seven years. She attended State Normal University in Illinois for two years. Mrs. Kirtley has finished her schooling at Ball State where she will receive her Bachelor of Science Degree in June.

Mrs. Clark is showing Mrs. Kirtley a multiplication chart used by the fourth grade class to make arithmetic easier. This sheet represents 7×3 by depicting 7 groups of 3 apples. Mrs. Kirtley is interested in following the progress of her last year's class in math.

Mrs. Simpson is helping Mrs. Rittenhouse put up some of the first graders snow scenes. By looking at the pictures the teachers are able to compare the artistic ability of the two classes.

Mrs. Donna Simpson, second grade teacher, attended school at North Manchester College and Ball State Teachers College. She received her Bachelor of Science Degree in 1961. She has completed her ninth year at Liberty Center.

Mrs. Lenna Rittenhouse, who has been teaching first graders for 16 years at Liberty Center, received her Bachelor of Science Degree from Marion College in 1950.

5th and 6th in action

Mr. Yager, 5th and 6th grade coach, shows Joe Nash, Bob Funk, and Jim Pace the fundamentals of good ball handling and passing.

The 5th and 6th didn't have many games this year, but what games they did have were exciting, even if they didn't win them all.

Pausing for a drink before going to the gym for their game are the 5th and 6th grade cheerleaders. Rosemary Walburn and Vicki Haiflich represent the sixth grade, and Patty Gerwig and Joyce Day have been chosen to represent the 5th grade.

Martha Bozell and Char Sellers, senior members and the originators of this plot, seem to be thoroughly enjoying themselves.

high school antics

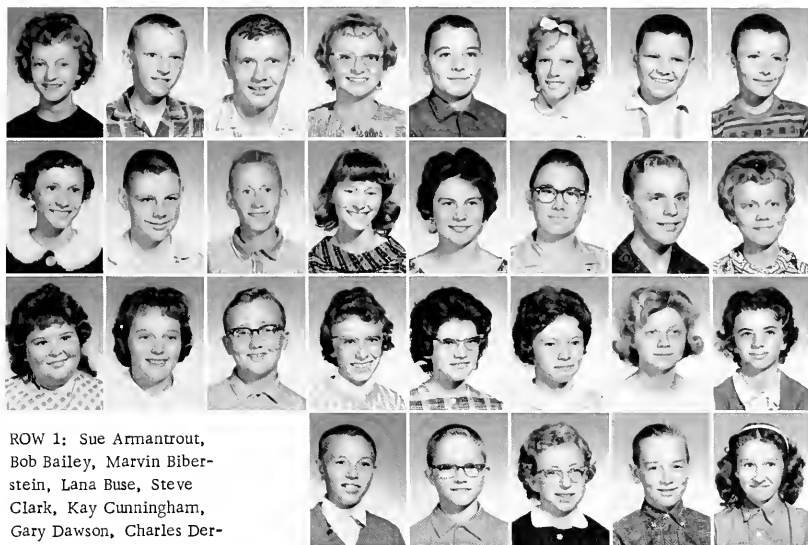

An early basketball season pep session was the scene of a skit presented by the basketball players and cheerleaders. Each ball player represented a teacher and the plot involved a court scene including a judge and jury, who were to decide the winner of the coming Madison-Liberty game.

Each year the F. F. A. initiates new members, preferably freshmen, into their organization. The lucky initiates, otherwise known as "Greenhands," are Larry Garrett, Jerry Arnold, and Max Baublet.

The remainder of the "rough" initiation includes the repeating of the creed by the initiates each time they meet an officer, and various small items such as eating Alka-Seltzer and hot peppers.

varied projects of 12 busy seniors

Checking the finances for the sen-class are its officers: vice-president Bruce McClurg, secretary-treasurer Cindy Raber, president Rex Hunnicutt, and the class sponsor Mr. Butt.

The activities the seniors engaged in this past year included selling Christmas cards, participating in the class play, and planning their senior trip.

It takes all kinds of people to present a Christmas play. But most important are the children which were portrayed by Richard Frantz and Junior Brenton. They were so cute in their little red skirts, knee socks, and short pants.

"These are our hardworking teachers?" Caught in a moment of leisure and reading the Christmas edition of the "Liberty Bell" are the men teachers Roush, Butt, Hernandez, Bussel, and Talarico.

sports highlighting an eventful year

"Let's twist again," was the theme song of a high school celebration in January.

"It's time for a substitute. Now who shall it be?" This poses a problem for Bill Bussel, junior high coach.

An unusual pep club picture: everyone is cheering, or almost everyone.

THE MOON and beyond

Bright, new horizons await today's students . . .
new technologies . . . new advancements on all fronts
. . . even the moon and whatever lies beyond.

How far you go in this space age depends partly on your imagination but primarily on your education and training. Conquering new horizons will demand more of today's graduates—more knowledge, more skills, more training and more specialization.

Our Free Enterprise system, with its high living standards, gives you an opportunity to "shoot for the moon" in any field. Whether or not your target is reached depends on how well trained you are to launch your career.
